

Guest Editors of WASJ Special Issue
“Innovation and Pedagogy for Diverse Learners”

Saemah Rahman (Assoc. Prof., Dr)

Assoc. Prof Dr. Saemah Rahman is Deputy Dean for Undergraduate Studies, Alumni and Industrial Relations at Faculty of Education, Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia. Her area of specialization is Educational Psychology. Her research interests among others are Learning and metacognition, thinking skills, integration of ICT in instruction and innovation in teaching and learning. Currently she also member of editorial board in two in-house journal namely Asean Journal of Higher Teaching and Learning, and International Journal of Learner Diversity. She can be contacted at saemahukm@yahoo.my

Ruhizan M Yasin (Assoc. Prof., Dr)

Dr. Ruhizan M Yasin is Associate Professor at Faculty of Education, Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia. Her area of specialization is Technology and Vocational Education. Her research interests among others are sustainable development, pedagogical innovation and work place learning. Currently she also a member of editorial board of in-house journal namely Malaysian Journal of Education and Journal of Malaysian Association of Technical Vocational Education. She can be contacted at dr_ruhizan@yahoo.com